Bears Welcome Tourists

Yellowstone is not the only place where bears welcome visitors, for tourists to Zakopane, Poland's famous holiday resort, report that huge polar bears meet them on the roads walking upright on their hind legs. They are men in bears' clothing usually accompanied by a photographer who will perform his function while the visitor poses between two terrifying bruins.

'Big Sister' Show Has A Barrymore

Diana Barrymore, (left) fifth generation of the theater's "Royal Family," recently made her radio debut as Mona Sheldon on "Big Sister," CBS serial. The 18-year-old actress, daughter of John Barrymore and Mrs. Harrison Tweed, (Michael Strange) is shown with Alice Frost, who plays the title role in the series. Diana, in the script, becomes fascinated with Ruth Wayne's husband, causing plenty of emotional excitement in the sketches.

Concord Grapes

In 1840 some boys of Concord, Mass., gathered wild grapes in the nearby woods. On their way home they threw some of the seeds on the land of Ephraim Bull. Mr. Bull preserved one of the seedlings that sprang up, and when it fruited he planted its seeds. One of the second generation of plants proved superior to the others, so he preserved this, which became the parent of that variety of grapes. Thus the "Concord" grapes.

Kentucky's Contribution

The granite block of stone in the Washington monument which was contributed by Kentucky bears the following inscription: "Under the auspices of Heaven and the precepts of Washington, Kentucky will be the last to give up the Union. 'United We Stand, Divided We Fall.'" The stone is placed on the inner wall on the 230-foot landing.

Eighty Miles to the Gallon

Brown and White Masterpiece

THE most important shortening development in years was used in baking this fluffy white cake with a chocolate-nut icing. This discovery—a new shortening described as "Sure-Mix" Crisco—makes cake ingredients flow together more readily, giving smoother batters. These batters bake up into higher, lighter, and more tender cakes, regardless of the recipe or cake making method used. Note the firm yet light texture of the cake layers, made possible by the action of the new shortening.

Record Staff Increased By Five

The Daly City Record has added to its staff five local boys, chosen for their courtesy and honesty, as circulation collectors.

Three of these boys, Johnny Mosman, Frankie Devlin and Bill Braumoeller, having worked for The Record a year ago, will be remembered by many subscribers. Georgie Lagomarsino, also an old-timer at The Record, will continue on the Colma territory.

John and Charles Razzari, 132 Acton street, will work in the Crocker tract. John Razzari is well known at Jefferson Union high school, being an ace scholar and captain of the lightweight basketball team. Charles' district is Mission street and east of Templeton, while John has the territory west of Templeton.

Johnny Mosman, 320 Hillcrest drive, also has his home territory to work in, including the area north of Hillcrest.

Frankie Devlin has been given the same district he had when he formerly worked for The Record, between Los Olivos, North Park, Junipero Serra and Mission streets.

Bill Braumoeller, 432 Santa Barbara avenue, another student of Jefferson, has the territory south of Park View avenue to Colma, and the Hillside district.

Many contests are planned and at a sales dinner every month high men will receive their prizes. The first dinner was held at the Russian Tea Room, after which the staff attended the Golden Gate theater.

Says Circulation Manager Harry H. Hollins, "I hope that these jobs will prove more than only a part-time income to these boys. I hope to be able to teach them a little salesmanship, improve their ability to meet people successfully and give them an insight into business in general."

Honest Englishman

It's better late than never, reasoned Jesse Wallace, as he walked into a London, England, police station and handed a pair of old-fashioned gold-rimmed spectacles to the desk sergeant. "I found them when I was down here on my honeymoon 25 years ago," he explained, "and the matter slipped my mind until I got home. I decided to turn them over to police on my next visit to London, and this is it."

Eveless Eden

Tourists returning from Greece report that Karges, the capital of the Mount Athos religious colony, is the only place in the world where neither women nor female domestic animals are to be found. Women, cows, mares and hens are taboo.

Ruby and Sapphire

The ruby and sapphire are forms of corundum, one of the hardest minerals known.

She's Kitty's Pal

Sylvia Sidney, famous stage and screen actress, now is a member of the cast of "Pretty Kitty Kelly," CBS serial. Cast as herself, Sylvia acts as adviser and confidante of Kitty, played by Arline Blackburn, as the locale of the action in the script moves to Hollywood.

Peanut Prosperity

Thousands of pigs are now rooting for a living in the peanut fields of the South, declares the Country Home magazine. Farmers around Headland, Ala., grow one acre each of grass, oats and soybean pasture, and 5 acres of peanuts for every sow and her two yearly litters of pigs. The only additional requirement is 10 bushels of corn and 150 pounds of mineral supplement to finish fattening the porkers. Disease is avoided by having no permanent hog houses and no permanent shade. Temporary shelters are provided in hot weather, and temporary windbreaks when it is cold.

Mail Order Aid

Post office approval has been given to a method for securing mail orders through newspaper advertising tried by a New York department store. In the body of an ad was printed a postage-prepaid label which readers could clip out and paste on an ordinary envelope.

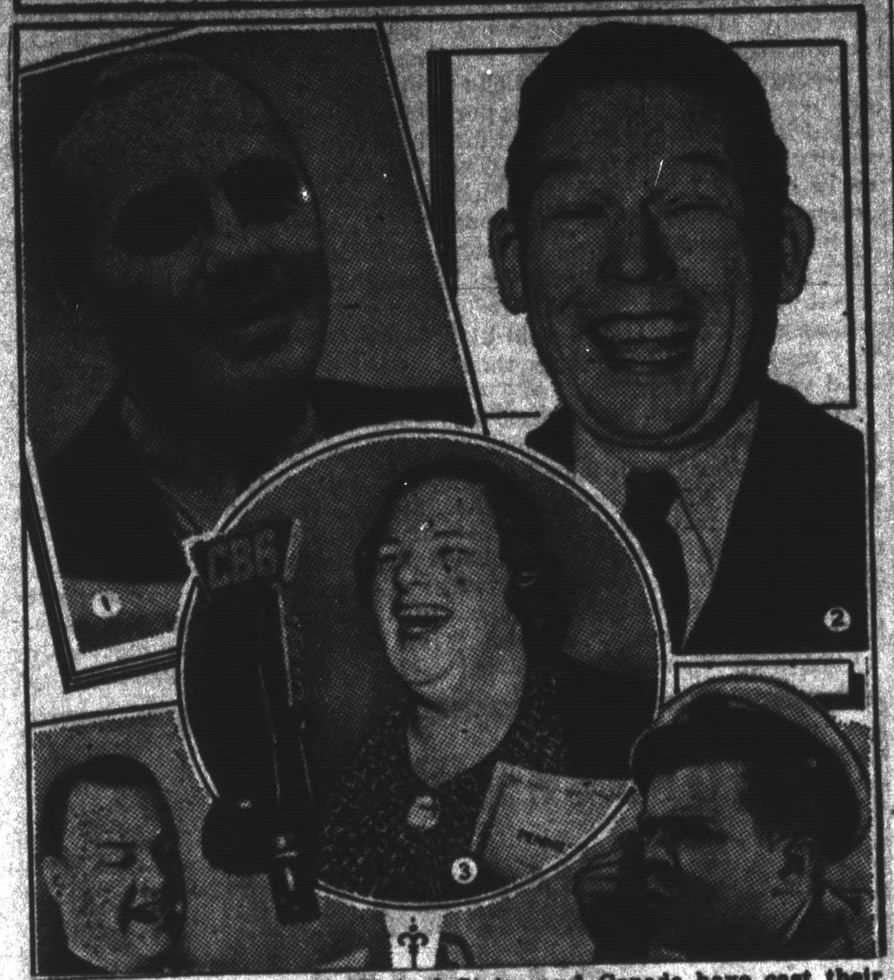
EDITORS' CHOICE



RADIO EDITORS of the United States and Canada have cast their votes for outstanding programs and air celebrities of the past year in the ninth annual poll conducted by the New York World-Telegram. For the seventh year, Jack Benny (1) emerges as head man of humor, while his program was voted the best on the air. Runner-up in the comedian classification was Fred Allen (2) with Charlie McCarthy third. Frances Langford nosed out Kate Smith (3) for first honors in the female soloist division. In the nine annual polls, Kate has won four times, been a close second every other year. Among the announcers, Don Wilson (4) defeated Harry von Zell for the first place by one vote. Alec Templeton was voted the year's outstanding new star, with Ezra Stone (5) of the "Aldrich Family" in second position in this classification.

Scouts Observe Nat'l. Peace Week By Demonstration

"The Yanks Are Not Coming," was the combined theme of Boy and Girl Scouts observing National Peace week, when members of Mrs. Lucille Lemon's Girl Scout Troop No. 4, and Joseph Straughan's Boy Scout Troop No. 141, staged a peace demonstration in the center of Daly City's business district, Saturday.

Nearly a thousand peace booklets were handed to the public from the red, white and blue booth erected by the youngsters. Giving lucid reasons why Americans should not go to war except in the event of having to defend their country, the pamphlets were supplemented by a poem written by Scoutmaster Straughan, and other anti-war literature.

While the booklet, "The Yanks are Not Coming," sold for three cents, many citizens showed their enthusiasm for the movement by paying as much as twenty-five cents, Mrs. Lemon said.

A compilation of figures, used by the troops to give a definite idea of the actual cost of the last war, is as follows :

Ten million dead, 6 million missing or dead, 20 million wounded, 28 million civilians dead from famine and disease, 9 million orphans, 5 million widows, 10 million refugees. Money spent for destruction, 360 billion dollars; cost to the United States, 80 billion dollars.

Skaters To Enter National Ice Tourney

San Francisco will be represented by four local skaters in the annual national ice skating competitions at Cleveland, February 9 and 10, according to announcement of the San Francisco Skate and Ski club yesterday at Winterland ice rink.

Previously nominated for the national tournament were Murray and Sheldon Galbraith. Added to the San Francisco delegation by the club's latest action are Miss Marcella May and George ("Sully") Monnier.

All four championship contenders are practicing daily at Winterland.

Interesting Manuscript

What is called "the most interesting MS. in England" can be seen by visitors in the Library of Corpus Christi college at Cambridge. It is the copy of the Gospels which Pope Gregory sent with Augustin when he made his first missionary journey to convert the English to Christianity in the year 597.

Mocha Halo Cakes Food For Angels!

YOU'LL rate your own personal halo when you serve Mocha Halo Cakes—their heavenly flavor comes from strong, fresh coffee used in the makin's, and when served with hot coffee—the natural accompaniment—it's perfect fare for holiday or just general entertaining. Easier to make than they look—here's how:

Mocha Halo Cakes

½ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
2 egg yolks
½ cup double strength freshly made coffee
½ cup buttermilk
1½ cups sifted cake flour
½ cup cocoa
½ teaspoon soda
2 teaspoons phosphate baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt

Cream shortening thoroughly, add sugar gradually creaming until light and fluffy. Combine whole egg and egg yolks; beat well; add to the creamed mixture. Reserve the two egg whites for the frosting. Cool coffee and combine with buttermilk. Sift remaining dry ingredients and add alternately with liquid to creamed mixture, mixing well after each addition. Bake in oiled muffin pans in a moderate oven (350° F.) for 20 minutes. Makes 16 medium or 12 large cup cakes.

Frost with Fluffy White Frosting; when the frosting has "set" put a band of chocolate around the edge of the cake. Melt 1 square bitter chocolate with 1 teaspoon butter. Put on with teaspoon or pastry brush.

Fluffy White Frosting

2 egg whites
1½ cups sugar
⅓ cup cold water
1 tablespoon light corn syrup
1 teaspoon vanilla flavoring

Place all of the ingredients except the vanilla in the top part of a double boiler. Beat with a rotary egg-beater until thoroughly mixed. Place over boiling water; beat steadily with the rotary beater until the frosting will form peaks when the beater is lifted, 7 to 10 minutes. Remove from heat; add the vanilla. Frost top and sides of cup cakes. Makes enough frosting for top and sides of 18 medium cup cakes.

Night Classes At Jefferson High

Evening classes are now being held at Jefferson Union high school, Tuesday and Thursday, 7 to 9 p. m.

Included in the curriculum are typing, shorthand, book-keeping machines, Americanization, English for foreigners, metal arts, and mimeographing.

To Judge 1000 Dogs at Show

The judging of more than a thousand dogs which will be entered in the Thirty-first Annual Golden Gate Kennel Club Dog show Saturday and Sunday, January 27 and 28, in the Civic auditorium follows a definite pattern that has been developed during the past quarter century.

Because of the enormous number of dogs entered no less than eleven judges will pass on the various entries. A total of 107 breeds will be represented.

The judges will first judge the best dog of each breed. In order to arrive at this dog they will first pass on the best of each class of breed. These classes are divided according to color, age, whether American or foreign born, etc. Following the selection of the best of each class, then the best dog of the breed is selected. This will mean that approximately 107 dogs, each representing the best of his breed pass in review before the critical eyes of the judges.

The best of breeds are then segregated into six distinct groups. The best of each group is then selected. These six "best-of-each-group" selected then compete for the title of "best dog of show."

A dog, therefore, has to win no less than six classifications in order to win the coveted championship of "Best Dog Of Show."

Peace or War

In America, Limburg may only suggest cheese, but in Holland Limburg is notable chiefly for its fine churches and monasteries and some of the finest old castles to be seen anywhere.

Quick CHICKEN PIE with Sweet Potato Biscuit Cover

by Dorothy Greig

If there is anything that brawny males and youngsters alike cheer over it is a deep dish main course pie, with hot gravy bubbling through the tender crust.

A new one I have been trying out lately is thick with sweet young carrots and celery in a special gravy made of condensed chicken noodle soup. This gravy has that rich yellow chicken color. It is rich in chicken flavor, too, and tender pieces of chicken meat. Topping the pie are biscuits made with mashed sweet potatoes. It's a lovely dish—and a quick one! This is how it goes:

The Pie Filling:

2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
2 cans condensed chicken noodle soup
1 cup water
½ cup cooked celery
½ cup cooked carrots
1 teaspoon lemon juice

Melt the butter, then add the flour and blend thoroughly. Add the chicken noodle soup and water and cook until thickened. Then add the cooked celery, cooked carrots and lemon juice. Put into a casserole dish and cover with "Sweet Potato Biscuits." Serves 6-7.

The Sweet Potato Biscuit Cover:

1 cup flour (sifted)
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons shortening
1 cup mashed sweet potatoes
2 tablespoons milk

Sift the flour, baking powder and salt together, then cut in the shortening and add the mashed sweet potatoes. Add 2 tablespoons of milk to make a soft, but not moist dough. Roll about ½ inch thick and cut with a biscuit cutter. Arrange over the chicken pie and bake in a hot (425°F.) oven for 15 minutes or until done.

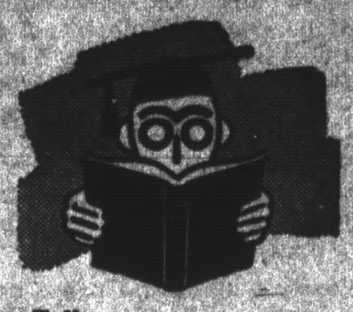
GEORGE AND MILLIE LEARN ABOUT LAUNDRY

(Editor's Note: Technical information for this series has been supplied by The New Process Laundry.)



Dear Folks:

Well, George is at it!—(his paper on laundry service and its development, you know). Home is never what you might call a haven at any time, let alone when George is writing a paper. He would not turn his hand if the house burnt to the ground but he will get in a towering rage if one so much as runs the sweeper while he's trying to "orientate his material," as he puts it.

Even if creative writing is difficult I see no reason to behave as George does. You should have heard what he called me for merely dropping an ashtray in his study. "Millie," says he, "You are the most annoying female I've had the misfortune to meet. You're silly, feeble-minded and meddlesome—a perfect example of your sex."

"Is that so?", I asked scornfully. "Well, Mr., suppose you get your own dinner. I'm going out to see some decent human beings. You lead me to believe that men have sunk to the level of insects—INSECTS."

The movie wasn't so hot anyhow, so about half way through I began to be sorry I left George with no dinner. I went home, expecting to find him starved and meek. But was he? Decidedly not. He was cooking an enormous steak and discussing the early history of cleansing methods with the baby. The conversation would go something like this . . .

George: "The necessity of clean clothes is world-wide and has persisted in spite of hardship and difficulty in cleansing methods. The early history is, of course, almost entirely of mechanical methods, which depended for their efficacy upon the action of moving water."

Baby: "Glub--dada--glub."

George: "That's right—that history may take us back three thousand years or more."

While George traveled back the three thousand years to ancient Greece or wherever it was, I dashed madly in just in time to keep baby from drinking the rest of the ink in the bottle with which she had generously annointed her best dress and one of my finest linen table napkins.

I expected at least a halfhearted apology for the ink and grease which literally engulfed the kitchen but he merely remarked vaguely, "Millie, you've no idea how lucky you are. Suppose you had lived in Palestine long ago. Washday would have been a back-breaking ordeal. You'd have used either a club like a wooden potato masher or a paddle like a butter paddle. You'd have laid the wet clothes on a flat rock or board and pounded until the dirt was dislodged. These rough boards and stones were really the first washboards, you know."

George smiled happily to himself and munched an enormous bite of steak, which incidentally dripped Worcestershire sauce on the tablecloth.

"Listen, George," I said, speaking as calmly as possible, "speak not to me of primitive methods or

Roosevelt Guest

Ten-year-old Larry Robinson, who plays the role of Tommy Lewis in the CBS serial "Woman of Courage" will be a White House guest Sunday, January 28. Larry goes to Washington with the cast of the famous Broadway success, "Life With Father," in a special performance for President Roosevelt and Mrs. Roosevelt. Larry portrays the youngest of the Day children in the stage hit. Despite radio and stage success, Larry's ambition is to be a surgeon.

Oldest Boy Citizen

"Oldest citizen of Brussels," Belgium, is but a boy who has functioned ingeniously as a fountain for 300 years. He has a private income, has been decorated by emperors and kings, and has a famous wardrobe which he wears on occasion without interference with his fountain function.

IT HAPPENS IN NEW YORK

by ROGER EVANS

NEW YORK—Sea gulls have caused a lot of trouble lately out in the harbor, and it's happened this way. A couple of years ago a "Foreign Trade Zone," or Free Port, was established, on Staten Island near the Narrows. As laid out it was a several acre stretch of docks and warehouses where ships could come in, unload a cargo, repack it, and send it on to its ultimate destination without paying the usual import duty. The Free Port was to be a stopping-in place for ships making a long trip, say, from Chile to Norway, and it was designed to route more world's trade via American waters.

Barbed-wire fences with high-voltage wires were strung all around the Free Port (so smugglers wouldn't be tempted to sneak the non-taxed goods in), and to make sure there'd be no smuggling by water, a photo-electric beam was directed across the channel leading into the Free Port. If a tug boat filled with illicit goods tried to skip out of the channel at night, the photo-electric beam was broken, all sorts of alarms were set off, and harbor police could dash out and nab the culprits.

This worked fine for awhile—until small-time smugglers found they could use little motor boats, or even canoes, and skip under the beam without breaking its contact and starting the alarms. So electricians were called in a short time ago and asked to rig up extra-sensitive photo-electric cells, which were placed so close to the water that nothing could get by.

Every night for the next week alarms went off all over the place, and police were chugging around in the water at all hours looking for smugglers. It was finally learned that the trouble was caused by sea gulls sleeping on the water. The new photo-electric beams had to be taken out. They were proof against smugglers, but not against gulls.

New Yorkers at Sun Valley

New ski fans, it seems, are being made every day. If there's a dearth of notables around town during the coming month it's going to be because so many of them have gone out to Sun Valley. Among those who've already left for the Idaho resort, or who are packing up their skiis in preparation, are: Mr. & Mrs. Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., Mr. & Mrs. Sterling Rockefeller, Mrs. W. H. Harkness, Hattie Carnegie, of the exclusive women's dress house, Mr. & Mrs. Fred Warburg, Illustrator McClelland Barclay, Alexander Woollcott, and Stephen Van Rensselaer.

Low Auto Tags

New York is one place where the lack of an automobile does not necessarily mean the lack of wealth. Many well-to-do families here simply won't keep a car—because it's too much of a bother, and because it's easier to get around in a cab. (Expenses on an automobile here—insurance, gas, garage—will run about $50 a month, which is the reason most New Yorkers don't have one.)

Statue to Anonymous

At Budapest in Hungary is a statue to Anonymous, a notary who wrote a chronicle of Hungarian history, the first page of which having his name was lost; hence the commemoration of an unknown historian.

Window Shopping in New York

By JANE ROVER

NEW YORK—If there's one single piece of wearing apparel the New York woman wants, above all others, it's a fur coat. I suppose it's that way all over the country, too, unless you're one of those lucky enough to live the year around in some place like Miami Beach where you can get along with a bathing suit, a sun bonnet, and dark glasses.

But here in New York, where cold weather has begun to set in, there's nothing more comforting just now than a fur coat. And this, incidentally, is the best time of the year to buy one, if you have any ideas along that line, and if Christmas spending has left anything in the family sugar bowl.

For fur retailers don't like to keep coats from one season to another, if they can help it, and during January, if you shop carefully, you can pick up some wonderful bargains. Practically everyone who sells furs is running a sale now, and the reductions in prices vary anywhere from 10 to 50 percent.

Sheared beaver and racoon have been the leading gainers in fur popularity, this winter. So far as style goes, the main trends have been towards coats cut to fit the figure more closely, and more coats of three-quarter lengths.

The most inexpensive fur you can get is rabbit. A coat made of rabbit will cost you anywhere from $39.50 up to $100, and it might be called Mendoza Beaver, Northern Seal, Bonded Seal, Premier Seal, Lapin, or any one of half a dozen other names. Rabbit fur, though, is warm, and it can be made into good coats. Coats made of rabbit represent more than 70 percent of all fur coats sold in the U. S. every year. In the 19th Century a fur coat was a luxury enjoyed by only a very few women. Now, though, with the discovery of new ways to treat and prepare skins, and with a higher specialization of the fur coat industry, coats have come down to a price field closer and closer to the reach of the average shopper.

At the opposite end of the price range there is the chinchilla, which retails from $25,000 up. The animal chinchilla is practically extinct (in Peru and Bolivia, where they are found, it is now against the law to kill or capture one), and chinchilla coats are nearly extinct. There's only one for sale in New York. Bergdorf-Goodman's have it, and they're asking $27,500. "When we sell it," I was told, "we don't know where we can get another." There are less than a dozen owners of chinchilla coats here. They include women such as Lily Pons, Mary Pickford, Mrs. William Paley, wife of the president of CBS, Mrs. Wm. Randolph Hearst, and Mrs. Byron Foy, who inherited her chinchilla from her mother, Mrs. Walter P. Chrysler.

The most expensive fur coat ever sold in this country (or sold anywhere, I should think) was a natural Russian sable that cost $100,000. Russian trappers started collecting the sables back in the first decade of the century. They were supposedly the most beautiful and the most perfectly matched ever seen, and were originally ear-marked for the Czarina. About fifteen year ago the sables, made into a coat, were bought, and are still owned, by Mrs. Henry Ford.

The principal fur producing countries are the United States, Russia, China, and Alaska. Our own top-ranking state is Louisiana (muskrat and raccoon). Fur coat manufacturing in this country is highly concentrated. Eighty percent of it can be found within a few blocks here in New York—along Seventh Avenue, between Twenty-Fourth and Thirty-First Streets.

A good ermine coat will set you back not less than $500, but if your little boy, while out feeding the chickens, happened to step on a white weasel (from which ermine comes) and kill it, he couldn't get more than 90 cents for the pelt. That's because it takes 100 weasel pelts to make an ermine coat, and they must be matched and put together by expert workmanship.

If you want to know where your money goes when you pay $49.50 for a new Northern Seal, here's an approximate break-down: $6 to the man who clubbed and skinned the rabbits, $7 to the dresser and dyer, $19 to the manufacturer, and $17.50 for shipping costs, and wholesale and retail profits.

Do Not Open Until 2039

For opening 100 years hence, a package of tea has been put away in a safe place by the Empire Tea Market expansion bureau of London celebrating the centenary of the first tea produced in the British empire. The parchment-wrapped leaves were enclosed in aluminum foil to prevent oxidation and loss of taste, and the whole package placed in a lead case.

Cure That Slice

Inspired by the increasing use of mirrors by college swimmers and oarsmen to improve their strokes, sporting goods dealers, Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass company reports, are boosting business by installing large plate glass mirrors so that customers for golf and tennis equipment may be entranced by "first-hand observation of their own form.

George and Millie

I may resort to some myself. That club like a wooden potato masher would certainly be a lovely thing to use on your head!"

"Why, Millie," he expostulated, "how can you say such things. I've really no idea why you're so irritable lately. I know, I'll take you on an inspection tour of the New Process Laundry and that will cheer you up."

"It might," I agreed glumly, "if you'd let me send my clothes there to be washed and ironed."

My final remark made no more impression on George than did baby's screams of protest as her father absent-mindedly drank her glass of milk.

Goodbye for now,
Your loving Millie.

Wanted: One Wife

After all, there's nothing like being particular. From a farm in Boxville, Ky., 24-year-old Joe Ellis Baker went to Evansville, Ind., and asked police there to help him find a wife. Qualifications: She may be either blonde or brunette, but must be a good cook, pretty and under 26. But the foregoing combined advantages are not quite enough for choosey Joe. It is absolutely essential that she also have $20,000 so he can buy a farm.

Football Trophy

The John W. Heisman Memorial trophy is awarded each year to the football player deemed the most valuable. It perpetuates the memory of a football coach and gridiron mentor at many colleges for 35 years. The Robert W. Maxwell trophy, also awarded to the outstanding player, is named in honor of Robert W. (Tiny) Maxwell, a former all-America player, sports writer and gridiron official. The August V. Lambert Memorial trophy, emblematic of leadership among eastern gridiron teams, was donated by Victor A. and Henry L. Lambert of New York city in memory of their father, an ardent football fan.

Soap Nut Tree

Soap nut, the fruit of a handsome tree found throughout India, has been used to wash woolen fabrics, silks and jewelry since ancient times, even in preference to soap. Scientists today have learned to extract the essential matter, saponin, from the nut for use in the manufacture of soapless shampoos, as a foam stabilizer, and as an emulsifying agent for vegetable and essential oils.

Cooking Lesson

Left at home to cook his supper while his wife was at the movies, a 28-year-old husband in Prague, Czecho-Slovakia, became so alarmed when the porridge boiled over and filled the kitchen with steam that he rushed to the theater, calling loudly for his mate. The attendants objected to this disturbance of the performance, but the frenzied man threatened them with violence if they interfered. Charged at the police court with disorderly conduct, he was bound over for 12 months.

Appletizers Point Up Simple Menus

APPLETIZERS are something new for the hostess who likes to give her parties touches of individuality which make them memorable. The inspiration of Miss Cora Anthony, cooking expert for one of the nation's largest food chains, appletizers are featured in a group of recipes prepared for the inauguration of Second National Apple Week in February. Celebration of apple week marks the latest of the drives staged by food chains to move surplus crops and stabilize returns to farmers. During the week apples will be an important item for the housekeeper who keeps an eye on her budget, says Miss Anthony.

Appletizers on a Toothpick

Cut apples in cubes, place alternately on toothpicks with cubes of cheese (sharp store or Roquefort); salami; pickled onions; cocktail sausages or frankfurters; pieces of crisped bacon; salted nuts, etc. Stick toothpicks in large apple.

Appletizer Canapes

Core unpeeled red apples; cut in slices; cut slices in half; cover with desired spreads such as caviar; cream cheese seasoned with salt, Cayenne, Worcestershire and onion juice; cream cheese and anchovy; pot cheese and chives; Camembert cheese; toasted sharp cheese sprinkled with cayenne; smoked salmon or whitefish; smoked herring fillets; deviled ham, etc.

Appletizer Sticks

Cut apples into quarter-inch sticks; wrap with thin slices of smoked turkey breast; boiled or baked ham; dried smoked beef; salami, etc.

Dip all cut apple in lemon, pineapple or grapefruit juice to retard darkening.

Legal Death

In most American states a person absent seven years without explanation may legally be presumed to be dead.

Danube's Source

The Danube river is formed by the junction of three smaller streams in the Black Forest of central Europe.

Leader To Tell Of Migrant Plight

Carey McWilliams, chief of the State Bureau of Immigration and Housing will speak on "Migrants and Relief" Tuesday, January 30, at the California Women's club, 1750 Clay street. McWilliams is author of "Factories in the Field," a review of transient agricultural labor in California from the days of 1849 to the present. The book is described as an expose of the facts that inspired Steinbeck's "Grapes of Wrath."

In addition to McWilliam's talk which will deal with the California migrant problems, other speakers on the same program will comprise Wilhelmine Loughrey, social worker of the Alameda County State Relief administration; Reverend Ben Wilson, minister of the First Unitarian church of San Jose, and Reverend Herrick Lane, minister of Olivet Presbyterian church who will act as chairman. The meeting is under the auspices of the Bay Area Committee to Aid Agricultural Workers.

Arbitrary Date Line

The International Date Line is an irregular line which is drawn somewhat arbitrarily on the map of the Pacific ocean, near the 180th meridian of longitude. This line marks the place where navigators "change their date" on the trans-Pacific voyage. The line is drawn on the map in a general north-and-south direction, separating the islands of the Pacific ocean in such a manner that all those in the east carry the same date as the United States, and those in the west the same date as Japan and Australia.

Open Dance Studio At 162 Winchester

Fresh from the Hollywood Conservatory, where he taught such stars as Betty Grable, Jane Withers and Edith Fellows, the famous international dancer, Jack Carney, will open a Daly City studio next Tuesday, at 162 Winchester street.

Carney, who came to this country from England as a champion dancer, has had thirty years' experience in radio, stage and screen work. He will offer all types of dancing at his studio—tap, acrobatic, ballet. Both class and private instruction is offered.

Kansas City Shakeup

The shakeup of the Kansas City police department has really brought results. Cleanup has extended beyond crime and politics. Now Saturday night baths will be given the —well—here's the story from the beginning. A police captain strolling through a park noticed the fish pond was scummy and the gold fish were mighty dingy. He ordered the water changed and each fish washed every Saturday night in a salt solution to brighten it up a bit.

'DRUMS ALONG THE MOHAWK' HITS NEW PEAK IN ACTION, EXCITEMENT;

Claudette Colbert Stars With Henry Fonda; Ford Directs

The screen down at the Daly City theatre must be still vibrating from all the excitement that flashed across it yesterday—the most vivid, action-packed, thrilling film this reviewer has yet seen, Darryl F. Zanuck's production of "Drums Along the Mohawk." This Twentieth Century-Fox picture depicts in Technicolor the days when torch and tomahawk spread their terror in New York's beautiful Mohawk Valley, based on Walter D. Edmonds' best-selling novel.

The screen play by Lamar Trotti and Sonya Levien gives Claudette Colbert and Henry Fonda the roles of pioneer lovers who with the other colonists in the valley have to face the fierce onslaught of the savage Iroquois. While a heart-warming romance is thus assured, the most outstanding feature of "Drums Along the Mohawk" is its action. The screen has proved itself time and again as the best medium for portraying scenes like these, but never has it shown them more powerfully. One is literally frozen to one's seat at the tense realism of the Indian battle sequences, heightened in their effect by the Technicolor.

The cast is all uniformly excellent. Featured in it are Edna May Oliver, Eddie Collins, John Carradine, Dorris Bowdon, Jessie Ralph, Arthur Shields, Robert Lowery and Roger Imhof.

Indian Attack! The colonists make a last desperate stand against the fierce onslaught of the savage Iroquois who have brought destruction and terror to the beautiful Mohawk Valley. Above, Claudette Colbert and Henry Fonda in a stirring scene from Darryl F. Zanuck's production of "Drums Along the Mohawk." Filmed in Technicolor, this Twentieth Century-Fox picture is now at the Daly City theatre.

The story takes place in those days of romance and adventure when America was young. Claudette Colbert, an aristocratic city-bred girl, marries Henry Fonda, a farmer-colonist of the Mohawk Valley, as the film opens. Fonda takes his bride to the rough frontier where her spirit is almost broken by the crude life and surroundings. But, a brave girl, she perseveres and their love is strengthened by the hardships and perils they share. Then the Indians, under the drive of the British (for this is during the Revolution) attack the peaceful valley. This is the signal that unleashes such thrills upon the screen as it has seldom shown.

Companion feature is "Three Sons," starring Edward Ellis and William Gargan.

Tractor Romance

When Father's day rolls around next year a tractor on the farm of J. M. Templeton, near Colorado City, Texas, should not be forgotten. In fact, the tractor was almost a mother. A wren built her nest beneath the seat. Heat from the motor kept the eggs warm all day while the wren waited in a tree and took over the job at night. After the eggs were hatched the tractor was brought in at noon daily so the mother could feed her chirping offspring until the family was strong enough to fly away.

In the Fog

There are more hours of fog per year, on the average, at Moose Peak, Maine, than at any other place where there is a U. S. lighthouse service station: 1,629 hours.

Strawberry Grapes

At Cannoza in Jugoslavia, one of the chief delicacies is the "strawberry grape," a grape very like our Concord grape, with a strawberry flavor.

Home Equality

An extensive survey taken at Pasadena, Calif., relative to father's place in the home, revealed that the majority of mothers believe if father will just keep out of the kitchen he isn't a bad person to help out along other lines of housework. The final conclusion was that America is achieving equality in home making—meaning that father is doing an increasing share of the "housework."

American Decoration

American visitors to the ex-Kaiser's palace at Potsdam are not only reminded by the guide that an American President once dined there, but are shown the famous Shell room whose walls and ceiling are studded with semi-precious stones, and an agate-looking slab which he describes as, "petrified wood from your own country, from a petrified forest in Arizona."

Indians Utilized Cotton

Columbus found the American Indians already skilled in spinning and weaving cotton.
